

Webinar

Leading People & Culture in the New World of Work

Creating resilient organisations in the face of unprecedented change

- > Implications of psychosocial risks; right to disconnect; and positive duty on leadership and culture
- > Leading culture change to respond to legislative obligations
- > Engaging stakeholders in changing requirements

Delivered by

Shirli Kirschner, Co-Founder
Elker

30+ years of legal and dispute system design. Leader in speak up technology transforming workplace culture. View bio

Jane Lewis, Principal
The Outlook Consulting Group

Jane is an experienced Chief People Officer and Consultant working with clients on leadership development, enabling high performance and culture change. View bio

Wednesday, 20 November 2024
1:00pm – 2:00pm (AEDST)

We will explore:

- // The legal trends shaping the future of work and the implications for personal responsibility
- // The skills, mindsets, and behaviours needed to effectively lead in the new world of work
- // Frameworks for diagnosing and leading culture change within your organisation
- // How to engage internal stakeholders including leadership teams and the Board

Register now

Scan the QR or visit elker.com/webinars/new-world-of-work

